A LIGHT IN THE DARK

Autumn is here, the days are darker, and the need to light up our homes is increasing. The solution? Cosy lamps and candles from House Doctor.

EVERYONE NEEDS A FELLOW

After a long day at work and a commute in the cold autumn weather, you will want a warm greeting when you get home. With its cosy looks and combination of classic and sculptural design, the table lamp, Big Fellow, is certain to welcome you with open arms. Let the warm light shine through the marble look of the glass to create that highly sought after, cosy, warm setting at home. With its elegant looks, Big Fellow, not only lights up your space but adds a contemporary feel to the room.

Big Fellow is made from iron and glass in timeless colours that suit any kind of interior style.

A LIGHT ABOVE

Pendant lighting is one of the most versatile light sources. Use the pendant lights from House Doctor to light up a larger area of your living room, hang one above your work from home space, or in the hallway where it will create an inviting atmosphere for anyone arriving at your home. The lights can for example also be combined in a row above your kitchen counter – the possibilities are endless. With lamps in many different styles, you are sure to find one that matches you and your home.

Maybe go for the Boston lamp? Contemporary and industrial with a timeless elegance runs up the design of the lamp which is ideal above your small dining table. Thanks to the matt diffuser, light is spread out and does not glare or irritate. Perfect for those cosy gatherings with friends and family, sheltered from the cold outside.

IN THE CANDLELIGHT

For even more comfort and coziness, why not go for classic wax candles? The House Doctor candles have a marble surface, and they can be used as a decorative combination with other House Doctor items like a decorative tray, lanterns, or beautiful candle holders that let the light shine through in interesting ways. Make yourself comfy on the sofa with a cup of tea and let the flickering light create a relaxing vibe. By combining the candles with other candles in different heights and colours, you can create a personal display on your windowsill, coffee table or perhaps as a centrepiece on the dining table.
